New Nation in War Launches Attack Under Cover of Darkness and Find Serbs Fully Prepared.

ROUMANIA SIGNIFIES INTENTION OF TAKING STAND WITH ALLIES

Germans Capture Another Serbian City--Italians Storming Two Important Austrians Cities--Russians Pierce Austro-German Lines, Taking 2,000 Prisoners Near Roumanian Line--Allies Inflict Heavy Loss Upon German Aircraft--Greece Still Undecided--Teutons Claim Progress on Entire South Front.

London, October 12. — Bulgaria's long awaited thrust at Serbia has been begun.
News dispatches tell of the Bulgarian drive, which is confirmed this morning by an official announcement telegraphed from Nish to London.
All the attacks by the Bulgarians have been repulsed, the Serbians declare.
The Bulgarian movement is designed to take the Serbians on the flank while the powerful Teutonic armies of invasion are battering on the Serbian defenses from the north.
The attack by King Ferdinand's troops has been launched to the northeast of Nish.
The Bulgarian invasion began Monday night, the drive seemingly being aimed at the railroad that runs from Belgrade to Constantinople through Nish.
It is along this line that the main attack by the Teutons is being conducted in their attempt to break through Serbia and form a connecting link with the Turkish allies of the central powers.
Greece still has not taken a definite stand in the conflict, as indicated by the announcement made by Premier Zaimis to the Greek Parliament yesterday.
Her neutrality "will for the present be armed," were his words, according to Athens dispatches.
Former Premier Venizelos will support the present Greek government as long as its policy does not run counter to that of his party, which is favorable to the entente allies, he declared in a speech.
In his opinion, the only question is as to the time when Greece ought to enter the war, he declared.
Paris, October 12.—Premier Bratiano of Roumania has given the Italian government to understand that Roumanian co-operation on the side of the entente may be considered certain, says a special dispatch from Rome.
The Roumanian government, however, will choose its own time for taking the field against the Austro-Germans.
Berlin, via London, October 12.—Fighting continued last night northwest of Souchez and on the heights of La Folle, according to announcement of the French War Office today.
The Serbian city of Semendria, on the Danube east of Belgrade, has been captured by the Germans.
The War Office announced today that both the town and the fortress of Samendria were captured yesterday.

The Austro-German forward movement over the whole Serbian front is making good progress.
Geneva, Switzerland, October 12.—The Austrian city of Gorizia, 22 miles northwest of Trieste is about to fall, according to a telegram received here today.
The Italians, the dispatch says, have brought up a large number of heavy guns and are bombarding the town from five different points.
At the same time the Italians are attacking the inner defenses of Tolmino, while on the Carso the Austrians are said to have been forced to abandon several miles of trenches.
Petrograd, October 12.—The Russian forces have pierced the Austro-German lines on the Stripa river. They have already taken prisoner more than 2000 men and 60 officers and captured 4 guns and 10 rapid fire guns. The Russian advance is being pushed vigorously.
This attack is being made north of the Roumanian border. The effect upon the situation in the Balkans may have been a strong consideration in its launching.

Amsterdam, via London, October 12.—Press dispatches state that a recent raid of allied aviators on Ghent and the neighboring town of Gontrode was so successful that not a single hanger on the German aviation ground was left standing.
All of them with their contents were burned by incendiary bombs. Ten houses also were burned.

Braves' Park, Boston, October 12. —The world's championship series is almost within the firm grasp of the Boston Americans. The Red Sox champs of the American League trimmed the Philadelphia club by a score of 2 to 1 today.
Ernest Shore's fine pitching held the Phillies to one run, while opportune batting sent enough runs over the plate for Boston to win.
The Red Sox have now won three games, the Philadelphias one contest.
Lewis' outfielding and Luderus' batting featured.
Tomorrow's game will be played in Philadelphia where Alexander will probably be sent back to the pitching mound to stop the onrushing Red Sox.
Braves' Field, Boston, October 12. —While yesterday's crowd was the largest ever gathered for a world series baseball game, it was early evident that today's throng was to break all previous records. It was a holiday in Boston and three hours before the game started the field stands were jammed to their capacity and there was a line of fans a quarter of a mile long outside the grounds hoping to get the privilege of standing room.
For this, the fourth game of the 1915 series, there was some doubt during the morning as to the battering that would oppose each other. "We are going to even it up today," said Manager Pat Moran of the Phillies, "and go back home for the fifth game tomorrow with the count standing two and two. I am not sure at this hour who will be my pitching selection but you can say for me that whether it is Chalmers, Rixey or Mayer, he will be out there to win and the Sox will find run making a difficult pastime."
"We have the series clinched and will make it three to one in our favor today," said Manager Carrigan of the Boston Red Sox. "I have three good pitchers ready and anxious to take their turns in the box and it is hard to choose between them. They all have a winning game up their sleeves."
It was another perfect day. Thousands of Boston fans were in evidence early and rooters' organizations brought many bands with them.
Ten minutes before the game began thousands of people swarmed around the fences of the park clamoring for admission. Roadways were choked and hundreds having tickets had the greatest difficulty to reach the turn-stiles. The outfield stands and the infield stands were packed with humanity while many one straddled the back field fence like crows along a telegraph wire.
The largest crowd ever witnessing a ball game thronged Braves' Park.
First Inning — Stock singled, but was out stretching his hit, Lewis to Scott. Bancroft walked. Bancroft went to second and would have been out had not Barry dropped the ball. Paskert fanned. Cravath struck out, and Shore was given a loud cheer. No runs, one hit, no errors.
Hooper struck out. Scott also whiffed. Speaker walked. Hoblitzell up. Speaker was out trying to steal. Burns to Niehoff. Speaker was easily nailed. No runs, no hits, no errors.
Second Inning — Luderus shot a single to right. Whitted sacrificed, Hoblitzell to Barry. Niehoff fouled out to Cady. Burns walked. Chalmers was a victim on strikes. No runs, one hit, no errors.
Hoblitzell struck out. Lewis up. Chalmers threw out Lewis at first. Gardner fled out to Paskert. Chalmers kept the ball around the Boston batters' knees all through the inning. He had lots of speed and good command of it. No runs, no hits. No errors.
Third Inning — Stock up. Gardner threw out Stock at first. Bancroft walked for the second time. Paskert fanned. Cravath sent a long fly to Lewis; it would have been an easy home run on the Philadelphia grounds. No runs, no hits, no error.
Barry walked. Cady got an infield hit, Chalmers slipping while attempting to field the batter's bunt. Barry went to second. Shore up, strike one. Chalmers made a balk and Umpire Evans after consulting Rixey reversed himself and sent Barry back to second and Cady to first. Shore sacrificed, Stock to Niehoff; Barry for me that whether it is Chalmers, Rixey or Mayer, he will be out there to win and the Sox will find run making a difficult pastime."

Ten minutes before the game began thousands of people swarmed around the fences of the park clamoring for admission. Roadways were choked and hundreds having tickets had the greatest difficulty to reach the turn-stiles. The outfield stands and the infield stands were packed with humanity while many one straddled the back field fence like crows along a telegraph wire.
The largest crowd ever witnessing a ball game thronged Braves' Park.
First Inning — Stock singled, but was out stretching his hit, Lewis to Scott. Bancroft walked. Bancroft went to second and would have been out had not Barry dropped the ball. Paskert fanned. Cravath struck out, and Shore was given a loud cheer. No runs, one hit, no errors.
Hooper struck out. Scott also whiffed. Speaker walked. Hoblitzell up. Speaker was out trying to steal. Burns to Niehoff. Speaker was easily nailed. No runs, no hits, no errors.
Second Inning — Luderus shot a single to right. Whitted sacrificed, Hoblitzell to Barry. Niehoff fouled out to Cady. Burns walked. Chalmers was a victim on strikes. No runs, one hit, no errors.
Hoblitzell struck out. Lewis up. Chalmers threw out Lewis at first. Gardner fled out to Paskert. Chalmers kept the ball around the Boston batters' knees all through the inning. He had lots of speed and good command of it. No runs, no hits. No errors.
Third Inning — Stock up. Gardner threw out Stock at first. Bancroft walked for the second time. Paskert fanned. Cravath sent a long fly to Lewis; it would have been an easy home run on the Philadelphia grounds. No runs, no hits, no error.
Barry walked. Cady got an infield hit, Chalmers slipping while attempting to field the batter's bunt. Barry went to second. Shore up, strike one. Chalmers made a balk and Umpire Evans after consulting Rixey reversed himself and sent Barry back to second and Cady to first. Shore sacrificed, Stock to Niehoff; Barry for me that whether it is Chalmers, Rixey or Mayer, he will be out there to win and the Sox will find run making a difficult pastime."
"We have the series clinched and will make it three to one in our favor today," said Manager Carrigan of the Boston Red Sox. "I have three good pitchers ready and anxious to take their turns in the box and it is hard to choose between them. They all have a winning game up their sleeves."
It was another perfect day. Thousands of Boston fans were in evidence early and rooters' organizations brought many bands with them.

In Social Circles

Mrs. Jacob Elliott pleasantly entertained the Tuesday Kensington Club this afternoon. A dainty reception interspersed the needlework.

The quarterly dinner of the Teachers' Council of the Presbyterian church was greatly enjoyed in the basement dining room Monday night.

The table was artistically decorated in rich tinted autumn leaves and the viands of a most appetizing dinner were served with the sauce of congenial conversation.

The group entertaining included Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Hopkins, Rev. and Mrs. Wm. Boynton Gage, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Tuttle, Miss Kathleen Davis and Mr. McDole.

The usual monthly business was given attention.

The Browning Club opens its Fall meeting at Conservatory Hall tonight, the History department, Mrs. Mary Quinn, chairman, having charge of the program.

The Mrs. Mary Boyd Hale Bible class is enjoying a Kensington in the Presbyterian church basement this afternoon. The annual election of officers will be held.

E. Sturgeon, Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Sturgeon and children, Mary and Kathleen, Mr. and Mrs. Will Elliott and daughter Dorothy, Mr. Roy Fisher, Misses Mary Kerr, Mary and Faye Fisher.

MAY MOTORIZED RURAL ROUTES

Within the next few years, if present plans are carried out, there is every reason to believe they will be, Fayette county citizens who are receiving their mail by rural delivery will probably see every carrier using an automobile of approved make for distributing the mail.

It is the plan of the postoffice department to cut down the number of rural mail routes, but cover the same territory, and acting upon the plan the department is now requiring carriers in some districts to use automobiles and instead of covering a route 25 miles in length, cover one twice that length.

Better pay is to be offered, but by decreasing the number of carriers the department hopes to bring about the saving of a vast sum yearly, and yet maintain the same degree of efficiency.

WHITE PLAGUE IN THIS STATE

Tuberculosis in Ohio strikes men in the prime of life. This sinister characteristic of the disease is clearly shown by Dr. M. W. Bland, state registrar of vital statistics, in tables analyzing the number of deaths in Ohio from tuberculosis, in 1914, printed in the October number of the journal of the Ohio State Medical Association.

The figures show that the larger number of males die from tuberculosis between the ages of 20 and 35, while the mortality rate is higher among females between the ages of 20 and 30. Comparatively few die from this disease before the age of 15 or after the age of 50.

In Ohio in 1914, 397 males and 346 females died of tuberculosis between the ages of 25 and 29, while 352 males and 367 females died between the ages of 20 and 25.

October's Splendid Generosity

Last Sunday, after the wind drove from the sky the clouds which, early in the forenoon, threatened to obscure the sun, was one of the perfect October days we all love so much.

From noon on the deep blue of the cloudless sky and the haze, extending far up from the horizon, with the smoke drifting at intervals in thin sheets across the plains or hanging lazily like a monster veil over the top of the timber on the distant hills, all furnished an ideal forerunner of an evening when ghosts would stalk about, if there were such things as ghosts who walked about.

Sunday afternoon in the hill country with the leaves of the forest which covered the mountain, tinted in a multitude of colors, was an ideal preliminary to a good big supper with a basket of freshly gathered nuts from the woods and some ripe red apples as an after piece.

The air of the afternoon was cool enough to make hill climbing in search of chestnuts, hickory nuts and pawpaws exercise unaccompanied by fatigue.

The frosts of the earlier October days had loosened the tight hold of the chestnut burrs on the branches of the giant tree which bore them and sent them tumbling through the branches to the earth below, bursting open and surrendering to the hungry eager searchers, both young and old, the goodies nature had hung so high and guarded so carefully through all the long summer months.

Thousands of people "took to the hills" last Sunday and visited with nature when nature is at her very best, yielding her harvest of abundance.

People who can't forget their troubles and enjoy life as the guest of nature in the October woods and be thankful they are alive to partake of the wholesome stimulant the very scene and atmosphere furnish, are surely down on their luck.

Nature shakes hands with man in October, before going into winter quarters, and it is to man's advantage, in every way—it will sustain him all through the winter months—to clasp the extended hand and drink of the wholesome air as many hearty toasts as he can before jealous winter wraps all out of doors, hereabouts, in his mantle of ice and snow.

Every season and every month brings its joys and charms, but some way Autumn and October seem so delightful and so satisfactory. In October on one of those perfect hazy, dreamy days, we seem compensated for all the storms, the heat and the unpleasant things that go hand in hand with summer and reconciled, in our gratefulness for nature's bounty, to the discomforts which the coming of winter assure.

Poetry For Today

MOTHER'S PANTRY SHELF.

I wish I were a boy again,
That I might help myself
To all the things I used to see
On mother's pantry shelf.
So many good things hidden there
Just suited to my taste—
To take a bite of this or that
I often was in haste.

I'd help myself to her mince pies,
All raisins and much spice.
They used to be so lapping good
I'd want a generous slice.
I'd help myself to doughnuts, too.
The kind she used to make,
To cookies from her cookie-jar,
To lovely pink frost cake.

I'd taste again her marmalade,
Her jellies and her jam
That stood upon the highest shelf
Just to the reach of man.
There were so many kinds of tarts
Right near the pantry door,
Filled with every sort of jell
And many good things more.

I wish I were a boy again,
Just for the fun of it.
To look inside that pantry door
And eat a little bit.
I wish I were a boy again
That I might help myself
To all the pies and cakes and things
On mother's pantry shelf.

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINT.

Try to Keep Well.

A knowledge of the law of immunity teaches that when our health is at its best our resisting power is at its best; hence we say we are immune to disease. While it is wise and necessary to avoid, control and destroy disease-producing germs whenever found, it is very necessary to render the body as nearly immune as possible and then keep it in that condition.

"I'll raise grasshoppers, frogs and toads And sell the hops to breweries."

See above. Yep, the lines we have placed at the head of the editorial column of the Wapakoneta Daily News this evening are charged up to the erratic mental perambulations of Luke McLuke, the sunbeam artist on the big sheet at Cincinnati. However, Luke, your premises are far-fetched, to say the least. By the time the grasshoppers, frogs and toads get through hopping, judging from present indications, there'll be precious few breweries doing business along the old lines.—Wapakoneta (O.) News.

FIRST RELEASE IN NEW GOLD ROOSTER SERIES SCORES BIG SUCCESS.

CLIFTON CRAWFORD HAS LEAD

Broadway Favorite Realizes Success in Photoplay Debut—Comedy With Dramatic Situations.

"The Galloper", the first of Pathe's new Gold Rooster Plays to be released, is worthy of the honor thus given to it. Richard Harding Davis, the author, is too well known both as author and dramatist to require any comment, therefore let it suffice to say that "The Galloper" is written in his best style and enjoyed a fine run on the stage. George Brackett Seltz adapted it for a five reel comedy-drama.

Two things in particular strike the observer as he views this fine production—first, the excellent direction—apparent in every scene—of Donald Mackenzie, the producer, and secondly, the really brilliant work done by Clifton Crawford, the famous comedian, in the title role. A character not in the original play, that of "The Unknown", has been inserted by Mr. Mackenzie, with excellent results. "The Unknown" is a Turkish spy, and he adds wonderfully to the humor of the play. He was Mr. Mackenzie's own conception and forms merely one of a number of examples of the producer's care and ability. Clifton Crawford proves himself to be an artist of the first rank and worth the very large salary which it is understood he received for appearing in this, his first picture. Without detracting from the fine ability shown by the rest of this really excellent cast, second honors go to Melville Stewart and Jessie Ralph, the first mentioned playing the part of a much married correspondent and the latter as a rich and unlovely widow with matrimonial designs. Fania Marinoff, Rhye Alexander and Sam Ryan give worthy support.

The story deals with a divorced war correspondent who divides his time between dodging alimony hunting divorced wives and various creditors. As a means of relief from his financial troubles he makes love to a brewer's widow, proposes and is accepted. War breaks out between Turkey and Greece, and he seizes the opportunity to dodge his troubles, and a fiancée who does not appeal to him by going out as a war correspondent to Greece. It happens that a young American millionaire at the same time is sailing for Africa to hunt big game. On the same steamer are two charming girls who are going to the front as Red Cross nurses. One of them turns out to be the war correspondent's last wife; the millionaire immediately falls in love with the other. Arriving in Greece, the war correspondent finds dodging his former wife too strenuous and resigns his position. The millionaire offers to take his name and act as correspondent for him. From then on there are all sorts of comical misunderstandings, and situations. Scene after scene is a riot of laughter up to the very end where misunderstandings are cleared up, the millionaire is accepted by the Red Cross nurse, and the war correspondent reunited with his former wife.

A Safe Bank

We shall consider ourselves highly honored to number as customers those whose first requirements of their Bank is conservatism. From our foundation we have been rigidly and unwaveringly conservative in the conduct of our affairs. We have been willing to grow slowly in order to sacrifice no element of strength in the process of growth. Rapidity of growth is no evidence of stability. A stalk of corn attains to a greater growth in one year than an oak sapling does in five—but there are oaks that have endured for a thousand years. Whatever may militate against absolute safety to our depositors this Bank declines.

Men do not have bank accounts because they are successful, but they are successful because they have bank accounts.

PATHE PITCHER SIGNED BY FEDS

Harry Crandall, Jr., crack pitcher on the Pathe baseball team, has been grabbed by the Federal League for next season. Manager Stallings of the Boston Braves was after him, but the Feds offered better inducements. Young Crandall has been combining working in Pathe pictures with pitching on the movie concern's baseball team, and has made a success of both. For the last four or five weeks he has been letting down opposing teams, which have been the strongest semi-pro organizations around New York, with two or three hits a game.

LEHIGH VALLEY R. R. GIVES BEST TRAIN FOR PATHE PICTURE.

The Whartons, who make motion pictures for Pathe, succeeded recently in securing the most remarkable concession ever obtained from a railroad. In filming the first episode of "Wall-ingford" it was necessary to show the private car in which that famous high financier dazzles the inhabitants of the little "tank" towns. The Lehigh Valley R. R. not only permitted the Whartons to attach a big steel flat car, properly equipped, to their best train, "The Black Diamond" Express, but stopped the train twice to allow for the taking of scenes. The special car had to be sent all the way from Buffalo for the purpose, but the railroad supplied that also, fixing it up specially according to the Whartons' instructions.

SCENES IN "VIA WIRELESS" FOOL SEASONED CRITICS.

George Fitzmaurice, whose picture, "Via Wireless" has just been released by Pathe, has been reading with much interest the many complimentary reviews which have been written about the picture. One thing in particular has interested him,—almost without exception the critics have praised the remarkable scenes in the gun foundry, showing the casting of a gun. "The highest compliment I could get," says Fitz, "those foundry scenes were all taken in the Pathe studio in Jersey City."

Nurse Proclaims Skin Cure

Myrtle Hahn Says D. D. D. Prescription is Worth Rockefeller's Millions to Her.

"Ten years I suffered with eczema—three years of that time I could not appear in public. My entire body was covered with the disease. I could not eat. I could not sleep. I could not live. I have at last found the great Prescription D. D. D. My body is clean, smooth. If there were one bottle only of D. D. D. in the world and I had it, Mr. Rockefeller's millions could not buy the golden fluid."

Nurse Myrtle Hahn (in care Old Ladies' Home, Durham, N. C.)

How about you?
If you have any skin blemish or a little rash, do not let it develop into something more serious. Remember D. D. D. Prescription has been recognized for fifteen years as the standard skin remedy. It always helps, and if used according to directions, it should cure in a short while.
All druggists sell this standard remedy, but if you come to us, we will offer you the first full size bottle with the guarantee that unless it stops the itch at once we will refund the purchase price. Ask also about the equally efficient skin soap.

United States Has Embarked Upon a Seven Years' Cruise of Great Prosperity

By THOMAS A. EDISON, Famous Inventor

ENTIRELY leaving out the question of war industries, activities which are simply a hectic flush and do not give a complexion which indicates the healthy advance of commercial enterprises in the United States, I AM SATISFIED THIS COUNTRY HAS EMBARKED UPON A SEVEN YEARS' CRUISE OF PROSPERITY. But it may be the same story over again. I am afraid it will. Some will try to overdo it. Bad times will follow that, but not so bad as we have seen before, because the banking system of the country is now really sound. People can be confident of good times, but they must learn to save and avoid extravagances.

The war will likely continue another year, and at its close undoubtedly many survivors will come here to escape the terrible taxes certain to be levied upon them. But there remains plenty of land uncultivated in this country, and these people, accustomed to intensive farming, will assist us to increase our crops.

AND THAT'S WHAT WE NEED; INTENSIVE FARMERS. WHERE WE ARE GETTING FIFTEEN BUSMELS TO THE ACRE WE OUGHT TO GET FORTY. THESE EUROPEAN FARMERS CAN PRODUCE THE LARGE AMOUNTS TOO.

NEW LIGHT AND POWER CONCERN ASKS COUNCIL FOR FRANCHISE

Thirteen Prominent Men Petition City Council for Grants to Enable Them to Submit Bids for New Street Lighting—"Missing Link" Decided Upon—Two Routes to Be Paved—South Fayette Street Wants Asphalt Paving—Paint Street to Remain Open Several Weeks—Blanket Ordinance Passed After Many Attempts and Much Argument.

Declaring their intention to organize for the purpose of furnishing the city and citizens with electricity for all purposes, thirteen prominent Washington citizens Monday night submitted a petition to the city council asking for a franchise for the placing of poles, conduits and erecting and maintaining such equipment as necessary for conducting a power plant in this city, and asked immediate action so steps could be taken to submit a bid on the new lighting system to be adopted by the city.

The men behind the movement, and who were represented by Attorney John Logan, are, George Inskoop, R. C. Hunt, D. T. McLean, George R. Cox, George Jackson, P. J. Burke, Will E. Dale, Fuller Hess, R. C. Peddicord, Ben Jamison, James H. Allen, M. C. Ortman and J. W. Duffee.

Mr. Logan urged council to take action with as little delay as possible, and council placed the petition and accompanying franchise ordinance in the hands of the franchise committee and decided to meet again Friday night of this week for the purpose of considering the proposal and taking action upon it.

The franchise ordinance submitted with the petition is very similar to the franchise under which The Washington Gas & Electric Company operates, it is claimed, and, according to Mr. Logan, the men behind the movement for a new light and power company are very desirous of having the franchise granted immediately so that steps necessary to place the new concern in position to bid on the street lighting may be taken by the time the proposal is advertised for bids.

The "Missing Link."

Quite a number of the foremost citizens were present for the council meeting, many Millwood residents included, and after considerable discussion Council passed legislation for improving two routes detouring the Union Station—that through the Allen-Willis properties from Dayton avenue to the north end of the concrete bridge on Millikan avenue, and the improvement and widening of Water street from Paint street to Temple street, the latter to be paved with asphalt, and the former to be paved either with brick or asphalt.

Attorney John Logan as the legal representative of a number of Millwood citizens, first addressed council, stating that his clients desired the route which includes the alley route through the Mrs. Jane Davis property.

He stated that Millwood citizens should be given full consideration in the appropriation of Paint street and the opening of a new thoroughfare, and that if council decided upon the route above mentioned, no injunction proceedings would take place, but hinted that any other route would result in an injunction suit being filed to stop the work on the Union Station.

Mr. Logan also stated that the action of the B. & O. in beginning work on the station before the ordinance vacating the street became effective was clearly illegal, and suggested that council instruct the Service Director to stop the work until the ordinance became effective, and that in the meantime the route could be worked out and prepared for traffic.

B. & O. Agent, R. R. Kibler, stated that Paint street would not be entirely closed for probably two months, and that a 12 foot driveway would be left open on that street so traffic could pass with little or no interruption.

The proposals made to council by Chas. Allen and the Willis Lumber Company, were read, and after some informal discussion Member Sheets moved to accept the proposals. The vote accepting the proposals was unanimous. Under the conditions imposed the city is to pave the street as soon as it is graded and before used, and forever maintain the thoroughfare, the right-of-way being donated by the two property owners.

Later in the meeting Member Howell stated that owing to the fact that sometime must elapse before the street could be opened across the Allen-Willis property, he thought Water street should be improved from Paint to Temple by paving with asphalt, and that the work be rushed and completed this fall. He said the city had 35 feet on Water street at the Paint street end and

INJUNCTION SUIT TIES UP THE NEW UNION STATION

Two Millwood Residents Bring Legal Action Asking That Action of Council Be Declared Illegal and That Permanent Injunction Be Granted to Prevent Closing of Paint Street—Work on Station Is Stopped.

Work on the new union station was brought to a sudden stop, about noon Tuesday, when an injunction was obtained in the common pleas court by Ed Pfeiffer and Jesse Persinger, residents of Millwood, who object to the closing of Paint street, and who attack the recent action of council in passing an ordinance to vacate Paint street, as illegal, and ask to have the action set aside and the restraining order made permanent.

The plaintiffs, who are represented by Attorney John Logan, make the City of Washington, The B. & O. S. W. Railroad Company and the County Commissioners joint defendants in the action.

Plaintiffs claim they are residents and taxpayers of the city and prosecute the action on behalf of all the citizens.

The petitions recite the action of council leading up to the passage of the ordinance to vacate Paint street to the B. & O. in order that a Union station might be erected that the B. & O. waived its rights as property owner on the street, and that B. & O. was not the only property owner whose interests were at stake.

Plaintiffs call attention to the ordinance requiring 30 days before becoming effective, and that the B. & O. started work on the station prior to that time, and would, unless enjoined, place a permanent building in the street, closing same, to the irreparable injury of plaintiffs and others.

Temporary restraining order was asked and granted. Plaintiffs also ask that upon final hearing the restraining order be made permanent. Bond in the sum of $500 was furnished.

As soon as a copy of the court's decree was served upon the B. & O.

the work was stopped, and attorneys called into consultation.

It is understood that efforts will be made to furnish bond in order that work on the union station may proceed.

FORGER FAILED IN NEW STUNT

Last Saturday evening an unknown man masquerading as a woman, drove up in front of the Circle Hardware store and made a purchase of Mr. Brandon, one of the clerks, said he had no money but asked Mr. Brandon if he would go into the Second National Bank and get a check cashed for him.

Mr. Brandon presented the check at the bank but Cashier Schleyer refused to comply with the request. Mr. Brandon returned the check when the unknown man made good his escape.

The check written on a Second National Bank blank read: "Pay to Amelia Leach or bearer $260, signed Andrew Metzgar." The signature was such a rank forgery that Mr. Schleyer called the turn instantly.

"Mrs. Leach" purchased $12.50 worth of shot-gun shells.

This is a novel scheme to get the other fellow to cash a forged check, and one that has never before been worked in this city. — Circleville Herald.

WOULD OSTRACISE THE UN-AMERICAN

President Wilson Makes an Address to the D. A. R.

AMERICA FIRST HIS SLOGAN

Peace, He Declares, Can Be Rebuilt
Only Upon the Accepted Principles of International Law — Intimates
That Americans Who Put Other Countries First Should Be Ostracised—Synopsis of Address.

Washington, Oct. 12.—"America first" was the slogan of President Wilson in his address on national unity delivered before the Daughters of the American Revolution here. "I look forward," said the president, "to the necessity in every political agitation in the years which are immediately at hand of calling upon every man to declare himself where he stands."

To those who do not place America first, the president uttered a challenge that they stand forth on one side, distinct from the great mass of their foreign born fellow-citizens who do not overlook the ideals of America. He declared that the number of our citizens who "have not entertained with sufficient intensity and affection the American ideal" has been overestimated.

"Those who would seek to represent them are very vocal, but they are not very influential," said Mr. Wilson. "I would not be afraid upon the test of 'America first' to take a census of all the foreign born citizens of the United States, for I know that the vast majority of them came here because they believed in America and their belief in America has made them better citizens than some people who were born in America."

"I am not deceived," continued the president, "as to the balance of opinion among the foreign born citizens of the United States, but I am in a hurry to have an opportunity to have a line up and let the men who are thinking of other countries stand on one side—biblically it should be on the left and all those that are for America to the last and all the time, on the other side."

The president gave warning that he purposed to administer discipline to "hyphenated" Americans through directing public opinion against them.

The president gave a new definition of American neutrality. "It is to be suspected," he said, "that American hearts do not throb with foreign sympathy, or that American heads have not formed clear ideas of the merits of the great war; and the preservation of our neutrality, he declared, must not be attributed to a desire to keep out of trouble."

"We are trying to preserve the foundations upon which peace can be rebuilt," he said. "Peace can be rebuilt only upon the ancient and accepted principles of international law. It is the function of America," he said, "to stand apart unembarrassed in order that these principles may be preserved for application at the end of the war."

PROTEST BRITISH INSULTS

Washington, Oct. 12.—A draft of the note prepared at the state department for transmission to Great Britain in protest against British interference with American trade was submitted to President Wilson by Secretary of State Lansing. That the note will be sent this week is now the expectation here. It is thought that the president will find opportunity to go over the note and make such changes as he may think necessary within the next few days.

The United States in the new note will contest measures adopted by the British for the purpose of cutting off Germany from outside sources of supply and closing to her accustomed foreign markets. Many of the orders in council under which these are carried into effect will be denounced as contrary to the principles of international law, and therefore not entitled to command the respect of the United States government. Particular protest will be lodged against the measures by which Great Britain has arrogated to herself virtual control over what goods Americans shall sell to the neutral countries of north Europe.

MOTOR VICTIM

Cleveland, Oct. 12.—Charles Rebeke, five, was killed by an automobile which hit him while he was returning from kindergarten in front of his home.

RUSSIANS ARE STEAMING UP

London, Oct. 12.—The Russians are the aggressors in the region around Divinsk, as is shown by the German official war statement, which tells of the repulse of attacks before the city and northeast of Vidzy by the troops of Field Marshal Von Hindenburg. In Galicia, in the region of Tarnopol, too, the czar's troops continue to be on the offensive. They made three attacks, which were beaten off, according to the German claim.

THE INVADERS STORM HEIGHTS

London, Oct. 12.—The Austro-German army which stormed and occupied Belgrade last Saturday began its march south along the Orient railway and has captured the strategic heights between Zarkovo and Mirijewo. The main body of the army of invasion which has been concentrating in Serbia at four points near Zamandria east of Belgrade, has completed its crossing of the Danube, according to Berlin. This force, which is the right arm of the armies intended for the conquest of Serbia, is said to be equipped with unprecedented quantities of artillery.

While the armies of the Danube at Zamandria and of the Save at Belgrade have made good their footing on Serbian soil, it would appear, however, that the forces sent against Serbia on the Drina front are meeting stubborn resistance.

WIRE FLASHES

Otto Hardekopf, proprietor of a small meat market at Chicago, his wife and two daughters met death from suffocation by gas fumes while they slept.

Governor Willis' Columbus day pardon was given to Philip Geatano, an Italian, serving a fifteen year sentence from Trumbull county for manslaughter.

The two-year-old son of Otto Fleming of Mt. Vernon, O., found a number of strychnine tablets in a cupboard at his home and ate them, dying within a few minutes.

When a posse went to the home of Daniel Sims to arrest him for shooting to death Homer G. Baun, a druggist, of Cornishville, Ky., they found he had committed suicide by hanging himself.

POSITIONS OF SERBS TAKEN BY THE ENEMY

London, Oct. 12.—The Germanic armies, according to dispatches from Berlin, are continuing their advance into Serbia.

An assault by Bulgaria on the railroad connecting Nish and Saionica is expected. Roumania is showing increasing alarm on account of threatened military movement by Bulgaria and the Teutonic powers in close proximity to her frontiers, but neither Athens nor Bucharest is exhibiting any readiness to depart from a policy of benevolent neutrality toward the triple entente powers.

A Bucharest dispatch says that a force of about 150,000 Germans and Austrians is concentrated at Cerenzwitz, on the frontier of Bessarabia. The first line troops number about 60,000 and are supported by some 75,000 or 80,000 reserves. It is believed, the dispatch says, that the concentration of so large a force at this point reveals a plan on the part of the German staff to begin an invasion of Bessarabia as a support and accompaniment of the invasion of Serbia. Such a movement, if successful, would cut off Roumania from Russia.

A Berlin report states that Field Marshal Von Hindenburg on the Divinsk front has repulsed Russian attacks.

Of the fighting in the west the French official communication, in reviewing the recent German counter attack on Loos, says the Germans left between 7,000 and 8,000 dead before the positions which they tried in vain to recapture.

The meeting of the British parliament, which convened today, promises to be of unusual importance. The Anglo-French loan of $500,000,000 obtained in the United States will be discussed and ratified, although there probably will be a few dissenters who have been found to oppose every act of the government since the war was declared.

The country will await with far greater interest, however, for what ever light Sir Edward Grey may throw upon the Balkan developments and whether he or Premier Asquith will reveal the cabinet's policy on the vital alternative which confronts it. That alternative is whether Great Britain and France will throw all the forces they can command into the Balkan peninsula for the protection of Serbia and Greece against Teutonic Bulgarian aggression or will let events there take their course.

ONE PRISONER IS CAPTURED

Circleville, O., Oct. 12.—Robert Griffin, Ben Harris and Harry Meyers, recently indicted by the grand jury, escaped from the Pickaway county jail. The men sprung the lock on their cell and when the jailer entered the building they dashed past him. A posse traced the men to Yellow Bud where Meyers was captured. Griffin was held on a forgery charge, while the others were indicted on burglary charges.

Bope will be given a hearing by the industrial commission at 2:30 Thursday afternoon. Only two members of the commission, Elliott and Duffy, will be present. Member Yapple is in California. Bope is charged with disorderly conduct.

EMBARGO ON ARMS ALREADY IN EFFECT

Villa Faction Denied Shipments
From United States.

El Paso, Tex., Oct. 12.—An embargo on the exportation of arms to any territory controlled by Villa and his associates has been put into effect. While no direct orders were issued at El Paso, it was admitted in local official circles that no arms had been exported to Juarez since Saturday, and that if an application should be made to send arms over it would be held up.

At Nogales and Douglas, Ariz., the customs collectors were not as secretive as the local collector, and openly admitted that an embargo was on.

ASK PENSIONS FOR VETERANS IN POSTOFFICE

Cleveland, Oct. 12.—At the joint convention of the national and state associations of assistant postmasters in this city, George Reiter of Cincinnati read a paper in which he said the government is devoting more care to its decrepit horses than it is to veteran workers of the postoffice department.

Resolutions introduced declare in favor of placing first, second and third class postmasters under civil service and for a government pension for all veterans of the postal service.

The Ohio association elected the following officers: H. M. Tittle, Springfield, president; Gretchen Selbaugh, Lancaster, first vice president; W. S. Schutt, Cleveland, second vice president; W. J. Graham, Circleville, third vice president; E. E. Large, Ashabula, secretary-treasurer; W. E. Schutt, S. L. Ghaster and H. M. Tittle, delegates to the national convention.

ENGLISH MONEY VALUE SHRINKS

FOREIGN EXCHANGE DISTURBS FINANCIERS

Meeting Held to Consider the Latest Slump.

New York, Oct. 12.—Foreign exchange rates went down again in the face of the flotation of the $500,000,000 credit loan to Great Britain and France, to their lowest point since Sept. 15. So disquieting was the situation deemed that a three hour meeting, attended by Wall street bankers and Sir Edward Holden, a member of the Anglo-French financial commission, was held at the National City bank for the reported purpose of devising some new method to bolster the value of the English pound sterling.

Since the arrival of the commission here Sept. 10, the trend of sterling values has been steadily, though slowly, upward. For the past week sterling has been selling at about $4.72. It sold down to $4.67½, altogether too far below par to make continued buying of American exports desirable from the British point of view, in the opinion of some New York financiers.

The meeting was primarily to reach an understanding as to the best available method of using the $500,000,000 to stabilize exchange and also with a view to arranging a private agreement between New York bankers, on one hand, and London bankers on the other, for credits which would tend to send the value of sterling up in this foreign exchange market. A supplemental credit of $250,000,000, it was said, was discussed.

RIBS BROKEN BUT VIOLENCE IS NOT FOUND

Athens, O., Oct. 12.—Coroner J. J. Lane is investigating the death of Gabriel E. Graham, fifty-seven, a patient at the Athens State hospital, who died after four days' confinement at that institution. A post-mortem revealed that Graham had six broken ribs. Attendants and patients testified that Graham violently resisted being put to bed on the fatal night, and that in their struggle with him he collapsed and died. Patients were aiding in putting Graham to bed, they testified. All connected with the hospital deny using undue violence.

Coroner Lane after hearing the testimony, reported that he had been unable to discover thus far that any undue violence was used.

500 WALK OUT

Cleveland, Oct. 12.—Union machinists employed by the Warner & Swazey company, machine tool and binocular manufacturers, went on strike. William S. Jack, business agent of the local union, said that 500 men are out. The men are striking for an eight hour day. Orders for binoculars for European belligerents are being filled.

WELL, DID YOU EVER?

Fremont, O., Oct. 12.—Sandusky county has an official who wants his pay cut, and he has so notified the commissioners. He is W. F. Schepflin, county surveyor, who has been drawing $50 a month as tax draftsman. He has asked that this be cut to $30 a month, saying that was all it was worth.

FUGITIVE SAYS HE IS INNOCENT OF THE CHARGES

Bowling Green, O., Oct. 12.—Claiming innocence, but wishing to be cleared by the court rather than further dodge the officers of the law, Frank McGuire voluntarily surrendered to Sheriff Skibblie. McGuire escaped from the Wood county jail on the night of Nov. 11, 1906, before he was brought to trial for the murder of Constable Frank Thornton of Perrysburg on Dec. 27, 1905. That night an attempt was made to blow the safe in the Perrysburg bank. Martin Kirby and a man named Hughes, arrested with McGuire, were sentenced to the Ohio penitentiary on the charge.

WOULD HIT BODY BLOW

Chicago, Oct. 12.—Mrs. Olga H. S. Walsh of Chicago, through her attorney, Frank S. Monnett, filed a petition in the federal district court seeking an injunction to restrain the Mutual Life Insurance company of New York, its president and directors, from placing funds of the company in any trust company taking part in the $500,000,000 loan to Great Britain and France. J. P. Morgan and the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co. are made defendants in equity with the insurance company. Mr. Monnett hinted the case would be a precedent if decided in his favor for like proceedings against all the other mutual insurance companies.

CORNS LIFT OUT

Dr. Hunt's New Penetration Method Loosens Them Root and All. FULL SIZE BOX 10c.

No corn ever went so easily, quickly or surely as by Dr. Hunt's new way—the penetration principle of permanently curing corns. Dr. Hunt has devoted a life of study to this one subject. The final result is this entirely different method—a method by which corns GO forever in two short days.

Dr. Hunt's New Corn Cure comes in a simple plaster form. Six plasters in a box. Cut plaster size of corn and apply it. Doesn't "bulk" like clumsy pads. Contains no caustic to smart or cause blood-poisoning. No paring necessary. Wear any shoes. Ease comes the moment you apply this new remedy. You walk in comfort. You forget your feet. In two days corn lifts out.

Nothing like Dr. Hunt's New Corn Cure has been known before. It is an entirely new principle. Millions of packages have already been sold. Cures any corn. They must go. And the price is only ten cents a box. Guaranteed or money back. That's very little to pay for foot comfort. Sold by druggists and shoe dealers everywhere. Cure your corns once and for all, this new way. If any difficulty in securing, send 10 cents in stamps for a box, to American Chemical Company, Sidney, Ohio.

Large box containing 20 plasters, twenty-five cents.

CRUSHED THE CRITIC.

An Anecdote of Verdi and a Bother-some Parisian Journalist.

The first production of Verdi's opera "Otello" took place at Milan, and all the prominent musical critics of Europe foregathered in the Cathedral City in honor of the occasion. Among them was a Parisian journalist of wide reputation and admitted authority in the musical world. His first care on his arrival in Milan was to seek out Verdi and ask to be allowed to be present at one of the final rehearsals.

The composer received the critic with extreme politeness, but replied that he could not possibly grant his request, as he had decided that the rehearsals were to be absolutely private, and he could not make an exception in the favor of any one journalist, however distinguished.

The Paris critic, far from pleased at this answer, protested that in these circumstances his account of the opera might not be all he should like it to be. "You see," he explained to the composer, who affected not quite to understand, "I shall have to telegraph my article the same evening. It will necessarily be hastily written, and the impression in Paris the next day may suffer in consequence."

But Verdi was more than equal to the occasion. "My dear sir," he made answer, "I do not write for the next day." The critic bowed himself out.

USE A LOOSE REIN.

Do Not Be "Bossy" and Domineering In the Home Circle.

I find that I can write all day without pain in my fingers if I hold the pen loosely. If I should grasp it tightly it would be only a few hours before the strain made writing almost impossible.

Do we not often hold too tight a rein on ourselves and our families for comfort? Habit has made us bossy and domineering. When a member of the family goes we want to know where he is going and how long he intends to be gone; we keep a string on him and are ready to drag him home that we may feel that all are sheltered and under our watchful eyes.

This is selfish care. It fences the individual in. It hampers him and makes his field of pleasure and activity cramped and rasping.

When one knows that another is trustworthy, why hold so tight a rein?

Salt Water Cataracts.

There are a good many salt water cataracts in existence. They may be found in Norway, southern Chile and British Columbia, where narrow fiords, or arms of the sea, are obstructed by barriers of rock. The rising tide flows over and filters through such reefs into the great natural reservoirs beyond, but the water is held back at the ebb until it breaks over the obstruction in an irresistible torrent. Most curious of all is the waterfall at Canoe Passage, where the island of Vancouver approaches the British Columbia mainland. Here the flood tide from the Gulf of Georgia to the southward is held back at a narrow cleft between two islands until it pours over in a boiling cascade eighteen feet high, with perhaps double the volume of the Rhine. At the turn of the tide, however, the waters from the north rush back into the gulf, producing a cascade of equal height and volume. The waterfall actually flows both ways.

BUTLER NOW IN PENITENTIARY

Roy Butler was escorted to the Ohio Penitentiary, Tuesday morning, in the custody of Sheriff Henry Jones. Butler was given an indefinite term in the state prison for cutting to wound Harve Lloyd.

His downfall was the result of too much booze.

LORDS AND RETAINERS.

The Feudal System Has Not Yet Been Entirely Eliminated in Japan.

There is in Japan a social relationship between employer and employee not known in your country. It is the relationship of lord and retainer. For many centuries Japan was, under a feudal system where the giver of "yok" (or annual pension) was the lord, while the recipient of it was the retainer. Such feudalistic relations between payer and payee have not yet altogether died away in this country, though they are gradually diminishing with the capitalization of labor. Even today he who pays wages is allowed to assume something of the mental attitude of the lord—not in a despotic but in a protectorial sense—toward those who receive them.

A young man who was earning his school expenses by work in America came into possession of a lengthy letter from his mother left behind in Japan repeatedly advising him to be loyal to the person of his master, and he looked around to find, to his renewed surprise, that nobody would claim in the republic such personal loyalty as his good old mother must have meant.

But in Japan there exist many subjects for his quasi-feudalistic virtue. My American readers may think that the comparative scarcity of strikes in Japan is due to lack of self assertion on the part of laborers, but that is not quite right. The chief explanation must be found in their active loyalty to their employer's person rather than in their passive forbearance. From "Japan's Message to America," by Kojiro Matsukata (D. C. E. Yadek).

FLYING BULLETS.

At High Velocities Army Rifle Missiles Make Queer Sounds.

There is but one sound plainly audible from a flying bullet, and this is audible only when the bullet travels at high speed, at the rate of 1,500 feet per second or more.

Missiles from all army rifles of modern times, which vary in velocity from 2,000 to 3,000 feet per second, create a vacuum immediately behind the bullet. The result is a sharp crash as the bullet passes, caused by the air closing rapidly in behind the bullet base.

At considerable range two distinct reports are audible to the person by whom the bullet is passing. At 700 yards the sound may be described phonetically as "pack-punk." The first sound comes about three-quarters of a second ahead of the latter in the case of the United States army rifle, the new Springfield. The velocity of this rifle is 2,700 feet per second at the muzzle.

The first sound is that of the bullet passing through the air. It is like nothing so much as a long and very violent cracked blacksnake whip. The second sound comes about three-quarters of a second later. It is dead, heavy and is more like a thud than the "crack" of a rifle.

The difference in the time of the two sounds is because the bullet travels much faster than sound. Noise progresses at the rate of about a thousand feet per second.—Outing.

Growing Older.

As I see it, growing older is the process of the reconciliation of the spirit to life. Living is simply getting acquainted with the world we live in. The real purpose of a body is that it shall be used up, worn out—and then thrown away—in feeding the spirit. Whatever happens to you in the outer world translates itself finally into such a substance. That is what it is for, just as the purpose of food is not to look pretty on china plates, but to be transformed into blood and muscle. It is in the natural order of things that the body should be thus used and exhausted. The unnatural and horrible thing is that the body should be worn out and yet the spirit remain unenriched.—Atlantic.

Correct Diagnosis.

John Fiske, the historian, was once interrupted by his wife, who complained that their son had been very disrespectful to some neighbors. Mr. Fiske called the youngster into his study.

"My boy, is it true that you called Mrs. Jones a fool?"

"The boy hung his head. 'Yes, father.'"

"And did you call Mr. Jones a worse fool?"

"Yes, father."

Mr. Fiske frowned and pondered for a minute. Then he said:

"Well, my son, that is just about the distinction I should make."

Disabled.

"Have you read any of my poems lately?" asked Tennyson J. Daft, hoping for a compliment.

"No," replied Gaunt M. Grimm. "I have been under the doctor's care for a couple of weeks. That's what makes me look so bad."—Kansas City Star.

And Gets Him.

HIS CRITICISM.

The Paper Published Every Remedy Except the One He Wanted.

"I have called to make what I feel is a just complaint," said old H. G. Pester upon entering the sanctum of the able editor of the Weekly Wadette and Faithful Guardian of the Home and Fireside. "While your Answers to Correspondents column is filled with interesting items and helpful hints, I have not yet found therein just the information I particularly need."

"I have read with pleasure the formula for making White House whitewash, how to prevent a rubber plant from stretching, the latest theory of how few is a few and how to concoct invisible ink. I have also observed from time to time data on the ancient Druids, hints on kumquat culture, advice on the raising of wens and direction for the care of triplets and the taming of madstones."

"While all this is doubtless valuable to persons in certain predicaments, it does not seem to apply to my case. I need a remedy for mildew on a son-in-law, which gives him a dusty appearance and causes him to lop around as if blighted, but has not as yet actually killed him. Why, let me tell you what a fact. That fellow painted his kitchen year before last, and the ladder he used has been leaning up against it ever since!"—Tom P. Morgan in Judge.

A Spring Poem.

"Twins in the gloomy autumn when I walked about the zoo.
The creature had the blues except the leaping kangaroo.
"How can you be so cheerful at this dismal time?" I cried.
"It's always spring with me, my friend," the kangaroo replied.

Human Nature.

Said William Henry Gore.
But when his train chanced to be late
He'd rave and rant and roar.
